PROFILE

I'm entrepreneurial-minded designer who strives to execute every task to an exceptional standard. I have over 5 years of experience working on various web and mobile design projects as a freelancer.

I strive to produce a unique end user product, which surpasses the expectations of clients.

I possess first class interpersonal and networking skills alongside excellent attention to detail and time management as a result of working autonomously, as well as heading up small teams on a number of bespoke projects.
